

SAILOR'S SCOOP

Spring | Issue 1 | Date: April 6, 2020

VIRTUAL REALITE-DAYS

We're as bummed as you are that E-Days won't be happening in person this year, but we are hard at work to plan you an E-Days like we've never seen before!

Welcome to
Virtual RealitE-Days

We are finalizing a schedule now. For continued updates, you can visit the MAC website: minesactivitiescouncil.com and their social media for updates. If you or your organization wants to help plan or co-host an event, we are happy to help! Please reach out to our E-Days chair, Maia Warner, who is still hard at work for you: mwarner@mymail.mines.edu.

TRANSITIONING LEADERSHIP

The process of passing the baton and accepting a new leadership role can be difficult. This is the time when it is most important to pass on knowledge and prepare for what's to come. Come discuss best practices for passing on and taking over organizational positions and the challenges that may come up while conducting this process remotely.

April 15th at 3pm
Register on Engage

Workshop will be hosted via Zoom. If you have any accommodation requests, please reach out by April 13th to Tim Mellon: tmellon@mines.edu

MEET THE SAIL STAFF

Every week, we'll be highlighting a SAIL staff member who will share their favorite tip or activity to stay well during this time.

Kelsi Streich

Director of SAIL

This time is certainly hard on everyone including myself. I especially miss seeing and interacting with students and my staff every day. I'm an extrovert, so working from home has definitely been a rough adjustment! One of the best things I've done to stay healthy since being at home is scheduling daily phone calls with friends over FaceTime. It's a great way to stay connected.

It's also been so important for my partner and I that we work out every day. We were upset when our gym also closed, but there have been so many great trainers, gyms, and fitness enthusiasts who host at home workouts live on their Instagram accounts. It's definitely a good reset when I start to feel overwhelmed. Our dogs have also quadrupled their walk time since we've been home! They're definitely loving quarantine and reminding us to find the good in all of this. Stay well!

SAIL POLICY & SPENDING UPDATE

Yes, your organization can still make purchases for its programming and activities! SAIL has updated their policies to allow for appropriate spending by your organization. Follow these steps:

- Fill out a purchase request as usual
- If approved, please let us know if you want us to purchase the items for you, or if you want to purchase the items and get reimbursed for them
- Have the items delivered to your address - there are currently no deliveries to campus or SAIL
- Follow all purchasing rules and regulations
 - Make sure you order items that can be used without the club having to meet in person
 - If you need help with moving previously scheduled events to the fall semester, let us know, so we can help! Contact Begoña at bruiz@mines.edu
 - If you have contracts or purchase orders, email them to bruiz@mines.edu

Let us know how we can help you to support your organization and engage your members online! We have lots of resources available to help your org stay active and connected. We are here to help you succeed!!

Keep checking the SAIL website for more resources!
